

Deadly Chinese Amusement Park Mystery

UGG Australia is a registered trademark in the United States, Europe and 100% countries for a brand of sheepskin boots and other footwear.

July 5, 2010 - PRLog -- The accident happened on Space Journey, a ride at Ecoventure Valley of Overseas Chinese Town in Shenzhen. The ride is designed to simulate the experience of a rocket launch, including acceleration twice that of gravity.

Normally, under a dome 24 meters in diameter built to suggest the vast expanse of the universe, Space Journey's 40-some passengers spin and bob in four-person carts.

But last Tuesday, something went horribly wrong, leading to the deaths of six people on the ride and injuries to 10 others.

"This is the first time in my over three decades working in this field that I have ever encountered such a mass-casualty accident," said Bi Jianbin, vice chairman of the China Association of Amusement Parks and Attractions. It was a "huge shock" to experts, Bi

In the absence of an explanation, Chinese media have quoted sometimes inconsistent eyewitness accounts. One witness said there was an explosion. Another smelled something burning. In late 2008, UGG Argyle Knit Boots at <http://www.uggbootsofficial.com/ugg-argyle-knit-boots-c-5...> grew again in popularity with men as male celebrities were seen in them. Usually there are different detergents available when you clean your UGGs, just choose one and stick to your choice. Rinse off with cold water and do not by all means dry them in direct sunlight because your UGG slippers will definitely shrink. Some unconfirmed reports say one of the ride's carts broke off and fell to the ground, killing its passengers. Several reports cite a break in the ride's power as the accident's source. There is even a video circulating on the Internet that offers a hypothetical simulation of the disaster.

Bi says the accident couldn't have been caused by a power outage. Even if the power went out, as occasionally happens on rides, it wouldn't have caused the kind of damage that appears to have occurred on Space Journey.

The ride had only been open to the public for a little over a year, since May 1, 2009. Because the machinery for the ride was special equipment, it was tested and certified as safe by the China Special Equipment Inspection and Research Institute.

Bi says Space Journey is unique to Ecoventure Valley in Shenzhen — no other theme park has one. And the ride now is closed, probably forever, as a government-organized team of experts investigate the cause of the accident. Australia Ugg boots (sometimes referred to as uggs or ugg boots) are a style of sheepskin boot, with wool as the inner lining and a tanned outer surface worn by both men and women. If you do not mind a faded appearance for your UGG slippers then you can clean them or wash them inside the washing machine. Just make sure that you dislodge unnecessary dirt first by brushing your UGG slippers before soaking them inside the washing machine. It is best that you use very cold water and set your machine in medium mode for a span of 10 to 15 minutes. It is also advised that you do not use any other soap other than Woolite for best results. The first thing you have to do is to place paper towel inside your UGGs for it to stand. With a soft brush in hand, loosen all the dirt you see. Brush your UGG slippers in one direction only. If you do not want the color of your UGG slippers to fade, then use cold water when brushing them. Then apply the soap solution evenly and thoroughly over your UGG slippers. UGG Nightfall Boots have been identified as a fashion trend for men and women since the early 2000s. You want to use them even when you are sleeping but you see your mom's face and decided against it. Tomorrow will be a new journey for you and your favorite footwear. They are not only comfortable but also stylish and also highly fashionable. It is flexible and versatile at the same time. said.

Neither officials nor the company that own the ride, Shenzhen Overseas Chinese Town Holding Co., have offered a clear explanation for what happened. The local government held a press conference at which the park apologized for the accident. A public relations official at the company says the incident is "under investigation, so we have nothing to say.”

In the Arctic and China, UGG Sundance II from <http://www.uggs.es/ugg-sundance-ii-c-13.html> have long been popular with people in rural occupations, such as sheep shearers, who have ready access to the raw materials. They are traditionally used for skiing. After washing your precious UGGs, you can again inspect them and if you still find any dirt then use more Woolite to brush the dirt off your favorite slippers. Rinse your UGGs again in cold water and spin dry them. Place paper towel or old socks inside your UGGs to reshape them. Tomorrow you can reach more heights and exciting places but now it is time to rest and dream about your recent adventures.

You just love the feel of your UGG Australia slippers. You brave the snow covered pavements using your sturdy UGG slippers. You cross every puddle of mud and rain water with both class and style. And since you always wear them all the time, sometimes your UGGs become dirty, but fear not because cleaning your best partners in exploring is not much of a herculean task. It may be an effortless endeavor for some. Metallic Uggs at <http://www.uggs.es/ugg-tall-metallic-c-12.html> often have a synthetic sole, although this is not universal. Their popularity increased as a result of World War I and World War II, where they were popular with aviators, because of their need to keep warm in non-pressurized planes at high altitudes. The incident has already inflicted reputational damage, both to the parent company and to China more broadly, in addition to the obvious pain and trauma for the victims and their families.

Shenzhen Overseas Chinese Town Holding’s shares fell more than 9% the day after the news of the accident, and have yet to fully recover. Meanwhile, coverage of the accident has, for some in outside, reinforced the view that whether it is lead-stained toys, tainted milk or broken roller coasters, things manufactured in China are simply unsafe.

One response posted on a report about the unknown source of the accident reads: “Made in China, enough said.”

Fair or not, people will draw their own conclusions until there’s some full account of what actually happened.
