Oct. 21, 2010 - PRLog -- Joanne Musa, President and CEO of Tax Lien Consulting, LLC and creator of TaxLienLady.com will be hosting a free webinar with Don Fullman of Platinum Investment Properties West. The webinar will be held on Wednesday October 27, 2010 from 9:00 – 10:00 pm Eastern Time, and participants can register at no cost at www.taxlienlady.com/WebinarTraining.

The title of this webinar training is “Double Digit Returns Without Work Part II?” Last month, in part one of this series tax lien investing fund manager Katherine Dougherty talked about how she gets double digit returns in the funds and accounts that she manages. In this month’s webinar, Don Fullman, Co-founder and President of PIP West will talk about how he is able to get you an average of 30% return without you having to do any of the work.

“I’ve been investing in tax liens, and training others on how to get started with tax lien investing for 8 years,” says Ms. Musa. “One of the things that keeps some people from getting started is that they don’t have time to devote to doing the necessary due diligence and bidding at tax sales.” She added.

Investing with a tax lien agent makes it easy for people who don’t live in a tax lien state to invest in tax liens without having to travel. It also makes it easy for people who have full time job commitments and don’t have time to attend the tax sales to invest. Don will be taking your questions about using a tax lien agent, the costs, and what states he invests in to get you the biggest returns for your money.

You can secure your spot on this webinar training by registering at www.taxlienlady.com/WebinarTraining. There will be a replay for those who register but are not able to make the live webinar.
