

German Group Experience Spirituality in India

BERLIN, Germany - June 26, 2013 - PRLog -- India is a multi cultural country. With an origin of over 5000 years, and the wave of migration of people, from all parts of the world, it is justified when one calls her a multi religious country as well. With over six religions, and each encompassing of its varied beliefs and practices, peace is an essential factor, needed for the harmonious sustenance of the country. This is when 'Spirituality' comes in to the picture. Spirituality is not only about one's own belief, or to find peace within oneself, but it is about love for humanity, mankind and brotherhood. It teaches one to love themselves and others equally. Thus, being the backbone of India, spirituality, peace and 'nirvana' are all attained here, like never before.

We at TravelQshop, through Indian Spiritual Journey, bring to you a 11 day tour, promising to mesmerize you by 'Spiritual India' by taking you to all the Buddhist spots of India, as it was here that Buddhism was born, and what better way than following the footsteps of Lord Buddha. Visit Sarnath, the destination of enlightenment of Siddhartha Gautama, Vaishali, the destination of last Buddhist sermon, the Nirvana Temple Ramabhor stupa the brick stupa, the place of cremation of Buddha. Take a holy boat ride on the Ganges and let the serene aura of Varanasi envelop you and help you reconnect with yourself.

A group of 12 German, took a tour, presented by TravelQshop, to New Delhi, Varanasi, Bodhgaya, Rajgir (En route), Vaishali (En Route), Kushinagar, Lumbini, Kapilvastu and Shravasti and successfully attained 'nirvana', following the footsteps of Lord Gautama Buddha.
