

Lynx Fulfillment and SparkWeb Interactive's Order Desk establish integration between their platforms

Seamless order flow from Bigcommerce, Amazon and FoxyCart now possible for clients of Lynx Fulfillment through SparkWeb Interactive's Order Desk platform

OLEAN, N.Y. - April 10, 2014 - PRLog -- and Boise, ID. Lynx Fulfillment, a leading provider of Warehousing and Fulfillment solutions for small business, e-commerce and retail businesses, today announced that it has established a software integration relationship with Boise, ID based SparkWeb Interactive, maker of Order Desk. With this partnership Lynx Fulfillment adds the ability for clients to sell on multiple platforms or through a variety of shopping carts not previously supported. Order Desk will allow Lynx Fulfillment clients the flexibility to customize and automate the entire order management process from sending their orders for fulfillment to emailing tracking numbers to their customers. The integration includes data transmission capabilities for Bigcommerce, Amazon and FoxyCart.

Patrick Randolph, Lynx Fulfillment Managing Partner, stated, “Shopping carts are moving towards application-based programs that reside behind the shopping cart’s walls. David Hollander and his incredibly talented team at Order Desk have an already-established application that provides a flexible and automated solution to our clients. This relationship gives our clients the ability to focus on their core competencies to further grow their business while keeping the I.T. costs to a minimum. I am pleased to establish a relationship with such a trusted and reliable solutions-based company like SparkWeb Interactive.”

David Hollander, SparkWeb Interactive President, stated, “Lynx Fulfillment is a company that clearly puts their customers first and that's the kind of company we want to support. This partnership will allow customers of Lynx Fulfillment even more flexibility and control over their businesses. We are excited about this partnership with Patrick and his team at Lynx.”
