

DepositIQ Integrates With Yardi Resident Screening™, an Online Tenant Screening System

DENVER - June 9, 2016 - PRLog -- DepositIQ, the smart alternative to security deposits for the apartment industry, has announced an integration solution with Yardi Resident Screening™, helping minimize risk for property management companies and owners.

DepositIQ's alternative to a refundable deposit costs a fraction of the traditional security deposit but protects the property in case of default. Property managers can now utilize the Yardi Resident Screening™ interface to offer DepositIQ's product with the click of a button. The integration eliminates redundant data entry, ensures deposit policies are followed consistently, and reduces the administrative time and cost of handling refundable deposits.

DepositIQ's award-winning product streamlines an important part of the leasing process while improving closing ratios and increasing NOI. "We are always excited to offer a seamless workflow for our clients via integrations with well-respected companies like Yardi. This collaboration significantly benefits our clients." stated President Tom Schickel.

About DepositIQ

DepositIQ offers an award-winning security deposit alternative in the place of standard refundable deposits for the multifamily housing industry. Based in Denver, Colorado and branded as "the smart alternative to deposits", the product allows owners and operators to be more competitive in their respective markets by offering a lower cost move-in option, increase closing ratios, and generate additional income. Available nationwide, DepositIQ utilizes e-signature and e-payment technology and real-time analytics to provide crucial insight into clients' operations.
