

Living God Ministries announces Mr. Words Waggle Tongue, the latest highly-anticipated, life changing,

Atlanta, Ga., Ft. Worth, TX – Outskirts Press—the fastest-growing, full-service self-publishing and book marketing company—is pleased to announce the release of a new Christian non-fiction book: Mr. Words Waggle Tongue

FORT WORTH, Texas - June 20, 2019 - PRLog -- Mr. Words Waggle Tongue contains valuable insight and principles for living as a disciple of Jesus Christ and for properly understanding and applying the principles of the epistle of James in one's life. The book is inspired by the Epistle of James, written to Jewish Christians of the first century A.D. in an effort to expose hypocritical practices and to promote right Christian behavior.

James believed that real faith should motivate us to humble our hearts and draw closer to God. He also believed that the wisdom of God can help us control our tongue and all our actions; overcome trials and temptations with maturity and strong character; and hold fast to the law of love and generosity toward others.

A remedy for an uncontrollable tongue is to have the wisdom of God, which He already told us could be ours for the asking. James 1:5 says: if any of you lacks wisdom, you should ask God, who gives generously to all without finding fault, and it will be given to you.

In the book of James, you have probably noticed that it puts a huge emphasis on how our faith in Christ should influence how we live our everyday lives, and our tongues are no exception to that. We use our words to express literally everything we are thinking and feeling. Sometimes the wrong thing just slips out. Controlling what we say can be difficult, but rather than giving up on controlling our words entirely, or throwing in the towel, God calls all of us to fill our hearts with His word, so our tongue can become the overflow of His righteousness. We need to learn how to bring our mouths, as well as our hearts, into alignment with the faith that we are living out.
