

Coronavirus Shutdown | The Day Small Business Owners Realize They Need to Expand Online

The Corona Virus is forcing small businesses to adapt their marketing tactics.

Clients now go online to find what they need. Affiliate marketing may be the way to expand online.

HOUSTON - May 13, 2020 - PRLog -- Many businesses have understood that expanding their business online, is the smartest business move they've ever made.

Just ask Amazon.

Some even set up client acquisition systems called "funnels" that supply the business with targeted clients that are ready to buy. But it does require a certain expertise and investment

According to Wikipedia - Sales process engineering helps sales people's efforts become more productive.

But you don't have to expand your OWN business online.

If you promote someone else's product or service as an affiliate, you are creating a "web property" that can sell for you, 24/7 on autopilot.

Devon Brown, a seasoned 6 figure marketer has this to say-
Affiliate marketing requires:

- no creating your product
- no huge investments
- no customer support
- no need for stock or a warehouse

- and several other factors you can discover in his video.

The secret to receiving significant commissions is working in the multi-billion dollar Online Education industry.

A "learn how to" product can be delivered in digital format (ebooks, videos, audio). Commission payouts are usually 50 to 75%.

But there is a Roadmap to follow. To succeed, online business owners just copy what has proven to work.

Devon Brown is a mentor who loves helping beginners get started.

"Something like this just didn't exist when I started trying to make money from home. And I didn't have anyone willing to show me their secrets. So put this to work for yourself!" ~ Devon Brown

With his 12 Minute Affiliate System, all the complicated parts of an effective client acquisition system are made simple. After all, you don't have to be the mechanic to know how to drive a car.

4. Income-producing affiliate offers are integrated into the system on your behalf.
5. The step-by-step setup only takes 4 to 6 hours but a team of professionals can set it up for a busy entrepreneur for less than $100.

The Coronavirus pandemic is forcing businesses to "think outside the box". Affiliate marketing may be a way for offline businesses to create supplementary income streams.
