SAN DIEGO - Oct. 15, 2021 - PRLog -- The term and bed known as a "med bed" or "medbeds" are slowly making their way into the general public and are being touted to have healing properties by using a host of technologies including some developed by Nikola Tesla.

New products referred to as "Tesla Healing Coils" and other Tesla technology called the "Tesla Ozone Ray" is making its way into the hands of the public through products called "Bio Med Beds" and other types home use products.

Nikola Tesla was one of the greatest inventors in the 20th century creating AC motors and a host of other technological advances. As an engineer and a physicist Tesla made dozens of breakthroughs in the transmission, production and application of power. Now nearly 80 years after his death some of this technology is making its way to the general public in the form of "Tesla Healing Coils" and the "Tesla Ozone Ray".

The "Stage 3 Tesla Coil" not only improves healing but also removes internal parasites. These Tesla kits include different paddles which help close the gap in stagnate energy by using natural patterns found in nature. These natural energy patterns help with recovery, purify and detoxing the body by increasing bio force energy within the body. By utilizing natural Tesla frequency patterns people are able to maximize cellular function, recovery, and energy.

The Tesla healing coils are a component of the new "med beds" being introduced to the general public in the form of beds that are able to increase the Bio Force the body and reduce free radical stress and inflammation. This technology and the term "med beds" are now starting to make themselves known to the general masses and are thought to be the future of how people will sleep and live healthier lives. Many news outlets and media companies have started hinting at a mass release of healing med beds either coming from alien technology or even black ops programs. Even though that is open to speculation the fact is that many advanced "med bed" and "medbed" technologies are available now in the form of Tesla med beds and Bio Med beds.

Medbed.life is a company which is selling and offering med beds and Tesla med bed healing coils and Tesla Ozone Ray technology.
